

I am a recent convert to XM and love it. I commute daily between two cities with competing radio markets and love the freedom to carry one station with me wherever I go. However, when I need traffic or weather, all I have to do is turn off my XM receiver and hear the traffic locally. XM is not BLOCKING my access to any local station. It is no different than allowing two channels at two different frequencies from broadcasting local traffic. In the end, it is the consumer's choice and it is up to the NAB to compete for this market just as two local stations compete for listeners. Please allow XM to compete for my tuner's dial. I pay for the service and I should be allowed to get my money's worth.
